

By
Christina Griffiths
Card-making-magic.com

Make the most of your papers by adding them as backings to your projects.

They can be used to great effect for all your stamped or printed images.

Use them for matting and layering and information on this technique is at

<http://www.card-making-magic.com/mattingandlayering.html>

Match them to your chosen theme and add ribbons, gemstones and buttons to go with them. In fact any embellishments you have in your stash will go with these lovely stripes.

<http://www.card-making-magic.com/embellishments.html>

They are very “en Vogue” at the moment and will go with just about any design you have in mind.

I have deliberately kept the colours pale so that they will blend with any thing.

But if you need help with choosing colours then take a look at

<http://www.card-making-magic.com/colourwheel.html>

Try mixing them with polka dots, hearts, flowers or stars. Use your punches to cut them into shapes, or die cuts if you have them.

But whatever you do with them have fun. They can be printed off whenever you need them, over and over again.

Hope you like

Best wishes

Christina

